

All you are trying to do is monopolize the industry, XM is entering the market creating competition. If anything you should be happy to have XM radio in the market. Both companys will go against each other to provide better broadcasting of weather and traffic. You would be very stupid to get rid of XM radio in the traffic and weather market. They provide the best weather and traffic reports I have ever heard, they are revolutionizing the broadcasting industry.